 - Listen a second time with the transcript, pausing whenever you want to take notes in the spaces provided.
- 5. Enjoy! :-)

Welcome to word of the week, from the Déclic Anglais Podcast. This week's word is: CUTTING EDGE Translated to French: de pointe. If something is cutting edge, it means that it is at the most advanced, or most modern stage of development. We often use this term to describe new technology or scientific discoveries. Here is an example sentence: "These scientists are working at the cutting edge of cancer research." (Ces scientifiques travaillent à la pointe de la recherche sur le cancer). Thanks for listening, people! See you next time. (Ecrivez vos notes ici).	Word of the Week #42. Colling EDGE
